The republican agitators met at the Murray hall last evening and after a desultory discussion it was decided that the gentlemen in session are the "Republican Party of Hawaii."

George R. Carter has resigned his seat on the stock exchange. It is evidently too much for the brilliant young stock broker to O. K. bubonic bills and at the same time quote Kamalo, Olao, Kihei and "Na hup" stocks.

There must be a leak at the A la warehouse; at least Harry Jun claims that his stock stored there after the fire has been diminished by twenty-seven gallons of gin, fifteen gallons of whiskey, 144 bottles of wine, and a large quantity of other stuff. No wonder the "serum" of the Board of Health was plentiful.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

There is no reason why we should not be happy when Mr. Chas. Zane of Utah is appointed Chief Justice for Hawaii. The Senate bill says that the Justice shall be a citizen of Hawaii, but what a "citizen" is has not yet been settled by the wise lawmakers. We believe Judge Zane is a relative of Special Agent Wm. A. Kinney, and if so, we have no doubt that he will have a walking encyclopedia at his elbow, especially when anti Asiatic matters are subject for consideration.

Mr. H. M. Levy, formerly of the Hawaiian Hotel and at present an inmate of the Plague Hospital is reported as stating that he will "straighten matters out" when he comes out of quarantine. Mr. Levy is of course entitled to say and write anything he pleases when he appears among us again. But we do not think that the community will allow a precedent to be established according to Levy's treatment simply because that badly scared young man says so.

The proposition of some cranky Congressman to deport about 30,000 Japanese within a year is too ridiculous to deserve notice. Yet, the temper of the politicians on the Mainland is such that any cranky idea appealing to the vulgar minds of the masses may be carried by Congress. What do they care for Hawaii in Washington? All are playing to the galleries where the constituents are, and Hawaii is a big trump card to spring, as long as there is a chance to make a point on the political board.

We heartily agree with Councilor Leenberg that it would be an outrage to confine the sale of poi to one shop to be established at the Government market. All of us believe in having pure and clean food, and the taxpayers are willing to pay for officers who will enforce the sanitary rules at the poi shops as well as at every other place where food is manufactured. The Chinese are personally very clean and judging from our own experience we prefer to have Chinese handle the poi to having the Hawaiians pound the sticky mixture. That the poi shops can be vastly improved is another thing, but that is the affair of the Board of Health's employees and not of the Council of State.

We see no reason why the Advertiser, claiming to be a Republican paper, should make fun of the men who are endeavoring to organize a political party in Hawaii. It may be true that only a few people gathered at the meeting last night and we do not dispute the fact that the vote in regard to the name of the organization reached only thirteen. It may be an unlucky number as the Advertiser asserts, and we feel inclined to agree to the proposition because in 1887 a committee of thirteen injured the country beyond redemption, which Mr. Thurston found out in 1890 when he was ignominiously kicked out from office, and because in 1893 a committee of thirteen met in W. O. Smith's back office and arranged for the overturn of the monarchy and the annexation of Hawaii, steps that each one of them regrets to-day. THE INDEPENDENT has no interest in the Republican party, or club, or whatever you care to call it here, but we do not think that men who earnestly express their political opinions and do what they think is to the best interest of the country should be an object of ridicule. We don't think the Advertiser has made many friends by its vulgar "joshings" of the men who, perhaps erroneously, try to organize now, but of course it suits us to see the official organ making a foolish exhibition of itself.
